FURS, SKINS, WOOL & PELTRIES Naw York, Oct. 19.—The Post's money art says the loan market is easy at 465 $\overline{\pi}$ for loans, and 566 for discounts. The plethoris unemployed capital continues to promote the pausion of credits. The condition of the momarket is very anomolous at this season of year. A contraction is plways expected, for loans of the banks are drawn in, because the posits, which form its part the basis of these to are diminished. Now the banks are increas their loans, and the speculative mania is the simulated in a very immoderate degree, reming the coming revolution certain to be more a chievous, in proportion as the expansion has b reckless, and passing all due bonds. New York Dry Goods Market. [By Telegraph.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The dry goods trade opens with only a moderate business this morning, but with continued firmness on the part of holders of goods. The decline in cotton, which is as yet very slight, is mainly to be attributed to the decline in gold. Prices are, therefore, maintained, and with the light stocks of all kinds of demostic needs there is no research and at inches. stic goods there is no pressure to sell at
